

Constructed-Response
Standard 2: Earth and Space Science

Question 1

The force of gravity on the moon is about one-sixth of the force of gravity on Earth. Suppose that an astronaut travels to the moon.

How will the astronaut's mass on the moon compare with his mass on Earth? Explain your answer.

How will the astronaut's weight on the moon compare with his weight on Earth? Explain your answer.
